

INFLIBNET Centre

Open Journal Access System (OJAS) is one of the new initiatives of the INFLIBNET Centre facilitating hosting of electronic version of print journals into open access mode with all processes of submission, peer-reviewing, editing, layout designing and publishing built into it. The initiative encourages universities and institutions that are publishing journals in print format to host electronic version of their journals free-of-charge.

Benefits of Publishing on OJAS

Users, authors and universities as publishers and stakeholders in scholarly publishing, stand to benefit from publishing on OJAS. The benefits of publishing on OJAS in open access to different sets of stakeholders are as follows:

Users

- ❖ Get access to full-text of journals and its back-files 24x7 on desktop;
- ❖ Access, search and browse the content in a variety of ways, from specialized search engines like ARC, OAISTER, Google Search and DOAJ; and
- ❖ Get e-alerts for new content on desired subject keywords

Researchers and Faculty as Author

- ❖ Empower the Indian academic community to publish their research articles online and reach-out to wider academic community through specialized search engines like ARC, OAISTER, Google Search and DOAJ;
- ❖ Publish in peer-reviewed open access journals and get online comments on your article from academic community;
- ❖ Increase visibility, use and citation through open access to scholarly articles to the academic community world-wide; and
- ❖ Faculty and researchers in universities are invited to host electronic version of their journals and to start new open access journals free-of-cost on OJAS @ INFLIBNET. Journals hosted on OJAS @ INFLIBNET are accessible to all users world-wide without any restrictions. Currently, OJAS @ INFLIBNET hosts 14 journals.

Universities / Editors as Publishers
