Panel Discussion

A panel discussion on the theme of the Convention “Rejuvenate Academic Library as a Social Hub” was organised prior to the valedictory session of the Convention. Dr. Jagdish Arora, Director, INFLIBNET Centre, Panel Chairman, Dr. Arun Kumar Chakraborty, Director, RRRLF, Prof. A. S.

Moorttimee Samantaray, Deputy Librarian, NCERT, New Delhi were the panellists for the session.

Dr. Jagdish Arora allotted various topics, based on the theme and sub-themes to the panellists and moderated the entire session.

Prof. A. S. Chandel discussed on Library as skill development Centre and the role Information Literacy (IL) in the LIS field. He emphasized two key aspects i.e. capacity building of library professionals, and library visibility and value. Resources and services of the library must be promoted in order to attract wider stakeholders for maximum use. He opined that the sustainability and visibility of library can only be possible by enhancing the capacity of library professionals through proper training in order to effectively manage the libraries.

Dr. Pawan Kumar Gupta discussed on Library as a Social Hub where he emphasized how the increasing use of electronic resources has declining use of print resources and emerging of technology-driven society. The trends of falling library gate counts, have led to numerous claims of the impending death of the traditional academic library. Hence, he urged the library professionals to re-think their roles by adopting evidence-based innovative strategies such as installing “social” spaces like cafés, museums, and theatres; creating collaborative group study spaces; integration of library 2.0, developing “information commons” and bringing non-traditional functions like classrooms, event programming, and cafés into the library.

Dr. Arun Kumar Chakraborty elaborated on the current scenario of preservation and conservation of library by National Library of India. He discussed how digital preservation and conservation is important in the knowledge society. He opined that the basic problem of libraries that need to be addressed as early as possible. He suggested that library science syllabus must integrate digital preservation and conservation as one of the components and adequate measures should be taken to teach the students about the role of preservation and conservation of resources for the future generation. Further, he emphasizes the role of the Institutional Repository in the context of digital preservation and conservation.

Dr. Moorttimatee Samantaray discussed on Rejuvenate Academic Library as Social Hub. She talked about the four pillars of education of UNESCO and its relevance in the academic libraries. The libraries should transform themselves from “reading place” to “service place” by embracing new challenges, adopting new technologies, providing innovative services and facilitate quality resources. She highlighted that academic library has an important role to play in the growth and development of “knowledge economy”.

Mr. Prem Chand, Librarian, IAS discussed the Use of Social Media in Academic Library, where he shared that integration of social media will help in marketing and promoting library services and resources, and ultimately, library visibility can be enhanced in wider platforms. Most library activities unnoticed and get less attention. It is the right time where the library professionals should use it extensively to showcase and promote their library activities. He urged the library professionals to be competent enough to grasp the opportunity of social media in library services. In the open question and answering session, the question was raised on how to erase the demarcation between public libraries and academic libraries. While clarifying on this, panellists suggested the preparedness is required to arrange collaborative programmes to involve public in the knowledge sharing exercises.

On the basis of entire discussion and deliberation the following key aspects emerged:

- ❖ Library professionals must think about the library sustainability and viability;

- ❖ The library should be treated as a service or happening place, rather than a mere physical place;
- ❖ Evidence-based innovative library services and resources must be developed and practiced;
- ❖ Skills and competencies of Library professionals must be enhanced by the capacity building programmes;
- ❖ Evidence-based leadership is the need of the hour, which should emphasize by library professionals;
- ❖ Library for all must emphasize to reach for lifelong learning of the society;
- ❖ Information Literacy is a critical component which should be realized by each and every professional and be practiced each activity of the library;
- ❖ Research visibility must be enhanced by orienting users about how to organize and manage research through various research citation tools;
- ❖ Library syllabus should integrate digital preservation and conservation as a component of its teaching and learning; and
- ❖ Integration of social media must be an emphasis in order to enhance the visibility of the library.

Strategic role and direction must be defined in order to stay tuned with the changes in the field. The panel discussion was followed by the live discussion on the topic between panel members and participants.

Recommendations

1. The demarcation between Academic libraries, Public libraries and Special libraries should be diminished. All the libraries should be recalibrated to take up the role to reach the new age society information needs.
2. LIS professionals should rejuvenate their skills according to space and time, and all the stakeholders should be involved in defining the skills set of librarians for the new role.
3. LIS being a professional course, LIS departments should design the course / syllabus as per the needs of the new age libraries.
4. Ideation sessions should be conducted across country covering different LIS professional groups, departments and users to make library as a vibrant place to share knowledge and exchange information.
5. Libraries should be enabled with latest ICT Infrastructure. All the required technology should be made available free and easy accessible manner.
6. Preservation of local culture and digitization should be the responsibility of local library. All the necessary support should be extended by State/Central Government to perform this task.
7. Libraries should be strengthened by enacting and implementing library legislation in all the states.
8. Libraries should be the learning hub and support information literacy, digital literacy, continuing education and skill development programme.

Dear Shodhganga,

Your repository truly is unique and I always enjoy browsing the vast amount of knowledge contained in it. Some of the thesis are truly enlightening works. Thanks for all your hard work!

I noticed you encourage the use of a “Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 4.0 International”. Does this apply to all of your thesis (unless otherwise specified)?

So, for example, if I would like to place some documents on my website, would I be able to do so under the terms of this license?

Thank you!

Best regards,
Gabe Hiemstra
